1. This Office Action is a Restriction in response to the original application filed on 09/13/06 entitled, "Method of Optimum Auction Network Service".

Claim Restrictions

Elections/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Group I: Claims 1-7 are directed to an optimum lease auction method by using a network through which a lessor receives a payment from a lessee and an auction item is leased, which is classified in class 705/307.

II. Group II: Claims 8-14 are directed to an optimum reverse auction method by using a network through which a buyer purchases an item by paying a price to a seller, which is classified in class 705/37.

3. Invention Groups I--II are distinct process claims, and are directed to related methods/processes. The related inventions are distinct if: (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In this case, the inventions in two groups as claimed are distinct, and thus the two methods/processes have different functions and will have different effects as explained below:

The invention of Group I: (Claims 1-7) are directed to an optimum lease auction method by using a network through which a lessor receives a payment from a lessee and an auction item is leased.

The Invention of Group II (claims 8-14) are directed to an optimum reverse auction method by using a network through which a buyer purchases an item by paying a price to a seller.

4. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

(a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

(b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;

(c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

(d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;

(e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C.

101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

5. Because these inventions of groups, I-II are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

No telephone interview was conducted due to the complexity of the restriction requirement and since the examiner knows from past experience that an election will not be made by telephone. (see MPEP § 812.01)

6. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 3,5 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. The applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.43). Because these Inventions in Groups I-II are distinct as explained above, it is asserted that each group of invention would require a separate search of its own imposing undue burden on the examiner.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 (b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48 (b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17.
